

CAR REPAIRER IS KILLED AT SHOPS

C. R. Cross Crushed Between Two Box Cars.

Died a Few Minutes Afterward While Being Conveyed to Illinois Central Hospital.

YOUNG MAN LEAVES FAMILY.

C. R. (Bob) Cross, 25 years old, an Illinois Central car repairer, was killed this morning in the Illinois Central shop yards. He was crushed between two cars, and died in a few moments after the accident, in the railroad ambulance, while being taken to the hospital. The body was conveyed from the hospital to the undertaking parlors of Guy Nance. There was but one eye witness to the accident, Mr. T. M. Baughman, master car builder of the Illinois Central shops.

"I was supervising the installation of a knuckle on a bad order car," stated Mr. Baughman, "and Cross was working close by. The knuckle was lying across the wheel track, which was filled with cars. There was a break in the line, two cars standing about 12 feet apart, and I called to Cross to throw me the knuckle, which lay close by. Instead of throwing it he shouldered it and started between the cars towards me. Just as he got between the cars an engine working with a string of cars down the line backed into the wheel track and struck the cars. Cross was caught and crushed. He never spoke, and was carried to the hospital as quickly as the ambulance could be summoned, but died when the vehicle drove into the yard."

The engine which struck the cars was No. 1,562, in charge of Foreman Schumaker Engineer J. Louie Gibbons and Fireman Lack McCann. The engine crew was not aware that any one was between the cars, and did not know that Cross had been caught until the string of cars had been backed out of the track.

Cross was run over after falling to the ground, and his right leg cut open at the knee. Both arms were broken.

Cross was well known and popular among Illinois Central shop employees, and had been employed by the road about three years. He was born near Boaz station and leaves a father, Samuel Cross, and mother. He leaves two sisters, one brother, his wife and infant daughter, residing on the Mayfield road just outside the city limits.

The body was this afternoon taken to the residence on the Mayfield road and tomorrow morning will be buried at Mt. Pleasant cemetery. The funeral will be conducted by Rev. J. M. Perkins, of the Boaz section.

Opening Mining Property.

Mr. Joseph Randal went to White Plains this morning to look after mines in which he is interested. Recently he organized a company to work mining property at White Plains, which had been idle for several years. The coal is said to be of excellent quality, and operations will begin this week.

Miss Mary Mix at Honolulu.

Word has been received here by Mrs. J. H. Mix, 901 South Fourth street, that her daughter, Mary E. Mix, sailed July 25 for Honolulu to remain three months, visiting friends at their summer home. Miss Mix has been in California two years, but after her return to the United States will return to this city for a visit to relatives.

COLORS WOMAN KILLS HER RECREANT HUSBAND

Mayfield, Ky., July 31.—(Special)—Because he kept company with another woman, Mary Roland, colored, shot and killed her husband, John Roland, at their home in South Mayfield last night about 9 o'clock. She is in jail. When Roland went home they quarreled and she shot him four times, killing him almost instantly.

JUDGE ROBBINS WILL NOT TRY CALEB POWERS

Georgetown, Ky., July 31.—Judge Robbins in a written statement today decided to vacate the bench and not try Caleb Powers for alleged complicity in the assassination of William Goebel. Judge Robbins instructed the clerk to so notify Governor Beckham. The case will be postponed until another special judge is appointed by the governor.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Fair tonight and Thursday. Moderate temperature. Highest temperature yesterday, 90; lowest today, 69.

ELECTROCUTED.

Auburn, N. Y., July 31.—Showing plainly his 77 years with flowing white hair in striking contrast to the sombre black in which he was dressed for execution, Charles Bonior, of Buffalo, was electrocuted here today for the murder of Franz and Johanna Fehr. The old man walked to his death without a quiver.

FOREST FIRES.

Tacoma, July 31.—Unless soaking rains come soon millions of feet of timber in Skagit county will be destroyed by the great fires which are raging there. Fires also are raging in other counties settled and campers are fleeing.

FAIRBANKS.

Boston, July 31.—Riding in a carriage with Mayor Fitzgerald Vice-President Fairbanks received an enthusiastic reception along the route of the monster parade, which marked today's celebration of "old home week." Cries of "Hurray for the next president" came from all sides.

NEW RATE.

New York, July 31.—Commercial service began today over the new cable connecting New York with Guantanamo, Cuba, and thence by connection across the Caribbean sea with Colon, Panama. Rate messages between the United States and Panama are reduced almost fifty per cent.

WAGE EARNERS.

Albany, N. Y., July 31.—The Wage Earners' Alliance was incorporated here today with a capital of ten millions, stock holders being mainly from the wage earning class. The company plans to conduct a business in all parts of the country. The stated purpose is "to lift the laboring man above the present condition in this country and obtain for him a full share of prosperity."

KAISER IN AIR.

Berlin, July 31.—Kaiser Wilhelm is to rival President Roosevelt's trip under the sea by taking an air ship voyage. The trip will be made the latter part of August. The announced purpose of the Kaiser is to investigate for himself the qualities of the new military air ship, about which so much has been written in Germany lately.

ULTIMATUM.

Duluth, July 31.—In ultimatum issued today to the striking ore dock employees, that unless they return to work within 24 hours the corporation will prepare for trouble and cease all intentions of granting concessions, the answer of the officers agrees to a partial arbitration, but requires the men to return to work without previous discussion.

ARID LANDS.

Oyster Bay, July 31.—President Roosevelt is holding a conference today with Governor Curry, of New Mexico, and Chief Justice Kent, of the supreme court of Arizona, on problems that confront the government in arid land localities. It is said Governor Curry has a hard task before him and will make a general house cleaning.

GRAIN MARKET.

Cincinnati, July 31.—Wheat, 91; corn, 57½; oats, 48½.

FEUD BATTLE.

Whitesburg, Ky., July 31.—In an engagement between the Fitzpatrick and Coburn feud factions at Beaver Creek, Henry Halbert, a member of the Coburn faction, killed Wilson Barnett, and John P. Fitzpatrick, of the Fitzpatrick faction, was desperately wounded.

HOLD INSTITUTE AND CONVENTION

Farmers Will Have Attraction
Here October 10 and 11.

Commissioner Vreeland Promises to Aid in Work of Promoting Immigration

GOOD ROADS DISCUSSIONS.

In addition to the good roads and immigration convention, which will be held in Paducah Thursday and Friday, October 10 and 11, Commissioner of Agriculture Vreeland has promised the association in a letter to Secretary Coons, a farmers' institute, with reputed speakers of note from all sections of the country.

The association held an enthusiastic meeting, which was presided over by President D. H. Hughes, at the Commercial club rooms this morning. From letters received by Secretary Coons in reply to ten invitations sent out by him, it is apparent that this meeting will be more largely attended than was the first one, because the idea seems to be better understood and the movement more popular than at its inception. At that time there was some doubt of success. The association will have something to report this year, as McCracken county already has a colony.

Good Roads.

The good roads meeting, for which experts will be invited to talk and the institute work will attract many besides those especially interested in immigration.

Many well known citizens representing different sections of the Purchase will be on the program for addresses.

In his communication, Informing Secretary Coons of his plans to send speakers on agricultural subjects to this city during the convention, Commissioner Vreeland explained his action in placing the county institute at Maxon Mills, by expressing the opinion that cities as large as Paducah, Owensboro and Bowling Green, are not the proper places to hold institutes for the best interests of the farmers.

Miss Lola Rogers.

Word was received here yesterday by Mrs. R. R. Winston, 1122 Jefferson street, of the death of her cousin, Miss Lola Rogers, at her home, Durham, N. C. She died of typhoid fever and the burial took place today. Several years ago Miss Rogers visited Mrs. Winston and daughter Miss Clara Winston, for two months and during her visit made many friends in the city that will regret to learn of her death.

MARTIAL LAW MAY BE INVOKED AT BELFAST

Belfast, Ireland, July 31.—Declaration of martial law will probably be the next development of the dock strike prevailing here. It is impossible to exaggerate the seriousness of the situation. Military control promises the only relief.

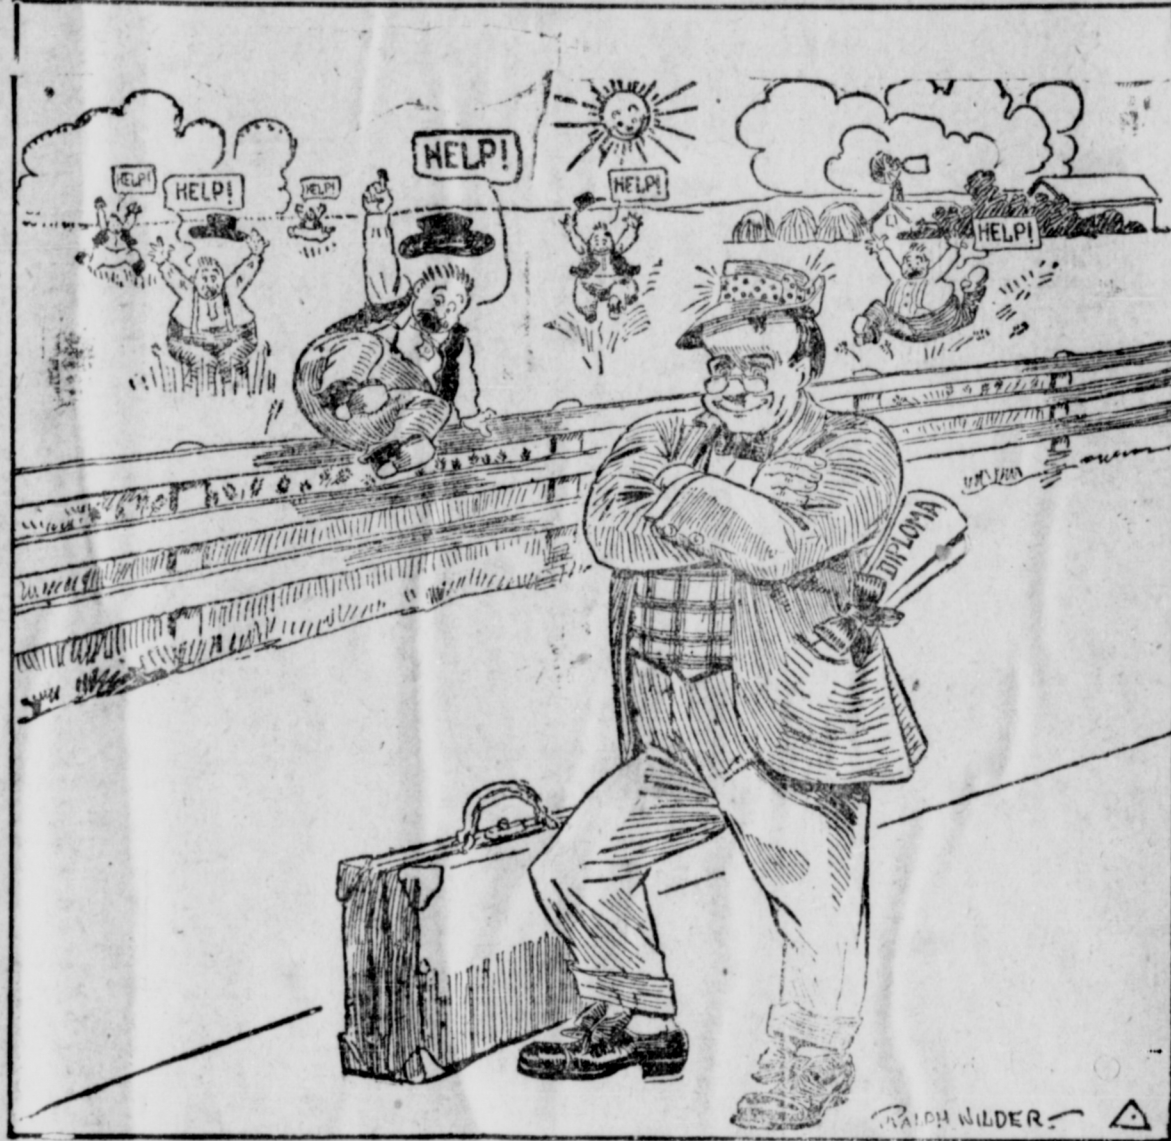

OVER THREE HUNDRED HOGSHEADS YESTERDAY

Big tobacco sales were held yesterday at the Dark Tobacco Growers' association on Broadway by the salesmen A. N. Veal. Farmers were pleased at the prices and the quickness of the sales, and many are signing their crops for the coming year, which promises to be the most successful yet. About 300 hogsheads were sold yesterday, and lugs brought from $8 to $9, and leaf from $8 to $13.

THREE YOUNG BOYS ARE ARRESTED ON HIGHWAY

Charged with striking Frank Weltlauf in the head with a slung shot, Herbert Graves, son of Dr. W. T. Graves, health officer, Abe Thompson, and B. Lawrence, three young men of the city, were arrested on the highway between St. John's and Paducah this morning by Deputies Bud Howle and Gus Rogers and will be tried this afternoon by Magistrate C. W. Emery for assault. In the buggy in which the three boys were riding was found a loaded revolver and a slung shot. Last night a dance was given at St. John's and the Paducah trio went out to attend. Details of the trouble are lacking, but it is said trouble resulted from a remark made by one of the Paducah boys.

Humane Officer Jap Toner Has Charge of Another Homeless Youth

Peter Brewer, 13 years old, a bright youngster of Benton, Ky., wants a home, and Jap Toner, humane officer and secretary of the Charity club, is assisting him in finding one. The youngster is an orphan, his father dying when he was born and his mother one year ago. Since his mother's death he has been residing with J. M. Brewer, his grand father. The boy came to Paducah yesterday, stealing a ride on the train and spent the night with Andrew Pitts, of South Fifth street, whom he knew in Benton, and this morning was arrested and taken to the city hall. Captain Frank Harlan telephoned to Benton this morning and learned from the grandfather that he did not desire the boy's custody any longer. It was then that the boy was turned over by the police to Mr. Toner.

Picture Writing May Land Fugitive Behind Bars of the Paducah Jail

A letter written to his sweetheart may lead to the arrest of Ed Smith, colored, charged with malicious shooting with intent to kill. He has been at large for several weeks and it was not until the letter to his sweetheart found its way into the hands of Patrolmen Hurley and Singery that it became known to the fugitive was still in the city. The letter is illustrated with original sketches. Smith shot at Sam Harris, because he found Harris with his sweetheart, Arcana Mays, of 824 South Seventh street. On the first page of the epistle is a drawing of a pair of dice with a hand showing above them in the act of snapping the thumb. The second drawing shows a man and woman in conversation, representing Harris and Arcana talking. A separate slip shows a picture of Smith lying on the ground with a smoking pistol in his hand and a woman standing near. This illustration is labelled "Lover refused him." Pinned to the second sheet, which is also illustrated, is a piece of poetry entitled "A Soldier of the Cross." Patrolmen Singery and Hurley are on the fugitive's trail.

PROHIBITION WINS IN STATE OF GEORGIA

Law Goes Into Effect January 1 and Limits Sale to Pure Alcohol.

Atlanta Ga., July 31.—The Hardman-Covington prohibition bill passed by the Georgia senate some days ago was adopted by the house last evening, 139 to 39. Two amendments added by the house will necessitate the bill going back to the senate for concurrence, of which there is little doubt. Governor Hoke Smith's signature is practically pledged; prohibition therefore becomes the law in Georgia.

Amendments permit the sale of pure alcohol by retail druggists on the prescriptions of reputable physicians and will allow wholesale druggists to carry pure alcohol in stock for sale to retailers only. The bill prohibits the manufacture or keeping in any place of business, for sale or giving away to induce business, any liquor producing intoxication. The law becomes effective January 1, 1908.

Mr. Mann Clark, fire and police commissioner, returned last night from McAllister, Indian Territory, with his son, Mr. Harry Clark, who has been ill. The young man stood the trip well and was feeling much better this morning.

JACKSON MEN KILLED IN RAILROAD WRECK

Illinois Central Near Milan, Tenn., Last Night.

Milan, Tenn., July 31.—Four persons were killed, another fatally injured and 10 seriously hurt last night, when the boiler of the engine of an Illinois Central freight train exploded near here, wrecking the train as well as another freight on an adjoining siding. The dead: Engineer Maloney, Chicago; Robert Henderson, fireman, Jackson, Tenn.; two tramps.

Fatally injured: A. B. Lynch, trainman, Jackson, Tenn. Both trains were burned. The cause of the explosion was not ascertained.

SUPT. CARNAGEY HERE TO ASSUME DUTIES

Superintendent-elect John Carnagey has arrived in the city from his home, Noblesville, Ind., and is prepared to enter upon his duties as superintendent of the schools. He is boarding until he can secure a house, when he will move his family to this city.

JULY BUILDINGS OF LITTLE VALUE

Most Important is That at Seventh Street and Kentucky Avenue, and Numerous Permits Are Issued for Repairs.

WHERE HOMES ARE GOING UP.

Building in Paducah during July has been quiet, and no large contracts of any kind let. The largest contract of the month is for a flat at Seventh street and Kentucky avenue, the cost to be $5,500. As autumn begins to work will probably pick up. All but one of the permits issued by the city engineer are for small buildings, and some for additions. The permits are:

Mrs. Harry Tandy and Mrs. E. P. Noble, Kentucky avenue and Seventh street, $5,500.

Mrs. Kate Moore, Harahan boulevard, $400.

E. Reaves, Bochman street, between Ninth and Tenth streets, $100.

E. L. Huddleston, Seventeenth street, between Madison and Harrison street, $1,500.

Will Reynolds, Twelfth street, between Burnett and Flournoy streets, $200.

Sandrine Iverlett, Sixth street, between Husbands and George streets, $100.

Chris Leiber, Caldwell street, between Ninth and Tenth streets, $300.

Ed Hubbard, Fourth street, between Tennessee and Jones streets, $800.

Additions and Repairs.

M. H. Gallagher, Clark street, between Second and Third streets, $6.

Nick Smith, South Third street, between Caldwell and Husbands streets, $150.

Dan Liggins, Atkins avenue, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets, $50.

Mr. Pierce, Trimble street, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets, $400.

Mamie Hester, Leake avenue, between Ninth and Tenth streets, $100.

Loeb-Bloom, Second street, between Broadway and Kentucky avenue, $1,200.

"We had mapped out such a beautiful trip, too," she continued. "We were going to take a train that would carry us away, way off, and then just sit down there and talk and think over it all."

"I'm starving for a box of candy, too," the little girl concluded.

Somewhat later in the evening word came from Fulton, giving full consent to the marriage, extending best wishes and hoping for a speedy return home. Both the young people are of Fulton, of well known families and they will probably return to that place after the wedding trip.

J. S. Whitnell formerly lived at 400 South Ninth street, and was in the tobacco business with Farmer & Graham. He removed with his family to Fulton, Miss Maxie Whitnell was a favorite with young people in Paducah.

CLEVER CROOK WANTED IN SEVERAL PLACES

Sheriff W. B. Bishop, of Livingston county, and Patrolman Cross arrested H. A. Crist, colored, at Sixth and Jackson streets today on an indictment from Livingston county for obtaining money by false pretenses. Crist gets up alleged insurance lodges of colored Odd Fellows and closes with the initiation fees. He got $70 at Smithland and $40 at Salem. He is also wanted at Mayfield and Owensboro. Sheriff Bishop traced him to Mounds, Ill., but he escaped from the officers there and came to Paducah.

MAXIE WHITNELL CAUGHT ELOPING

Fell Into Clutches of Memphis Policemen.

Former Paducah Belle and Young Man of Fulton Plan Runaway Match in Vain.

STORY TOLD OF HER ESCAPE

Memphis, July 31.—"The course of true love never does run smooth," and winsome Maxie Whitnell, of Fulton, Ky., has found in her own little romance no exception to the rule. The dainty little lady arrived in Memphis at 11:45 last night and instead of running into the arms of her affianced husband, she fell into the unexpected, though no less tender care, of two big police officers, Detectives Chiles and Fanning. The intended husband was on the spot, too, but for the moment he was a secondary consideration.

The interesting runaway episode was introduced to the Memphis police department when Mrs. J. S. Whitnell of Fulton, sent a long distance message hurrying over the wires, acquainting the officers with the fact that her daughter had taken train for this city for the purpose of meeting George Meacham, her prospective husband. The lady desired that the department take the young lady in its care on the arrival of the train from the north. Captain Perry, appreciating the necessity of detailing men capable through experience and observation of handling such a delicate affair, asked Detectives Fanning and Chiles to don their most genteel aspect and proceed to the Poplar street depot.

Relishing the situation, the two big officers wandered down to the depot, renewing a few of their own experiences as they walked and growing more and more excited as the time for the arrival of the train drew near.

They took up a vantage point upon the station platform and, if not the first, were the second to see a slim girlish figure descend from the train and affectionately greet a manly-looking young fellow, who appeared tickled to death at the meeting. The girl was the one described in the telephone message. She wore a jaunty blue hat, tastefully trimmed with blue ribbon, and she wore a smart gray suit and carried some tiny roses, held tight against her heart. The detectives had not the heart to break the first greeting, but when the happy, unsuspecting pair began to walk down the platform Detective Chiles approached them. With a grave smile and a magnificent bow he offered him arm to the little runaway lady. Both Meacham and his bride-to-be grasped the situation immediately.

"You fellows might have overlooked us," he remarked.

"It's low down mean," was the spirited comment of the girl.

Both of the detectives had all they could do to restrain their tears when the young pair were separated. Meacham to go his lonely way to the Arlington Hotel, his sweetheart to the quarter occupied by Matron Roark at the station house.

Miss Whitnell took the matter quite philosophically. She appeared undaunted and in good spirits when approached by a reporter. "Please, oh please, don't put it in the paper," she said, but afterwards was persuaded to consent to the publication of so bright and interesting a little romance.

"This will never make any difference. Tomorrow is just as good as today, and nothing can keep us apart. I can't quite understand why the people at home did this, but it will be just the same."

She is nothing but a slip of a girl, not yet 18 and she was a wee bit disappointed in the way things had turned. "George had waited for me at the Memphis station for two whole days. MISS JULIE FLORENCE WALSH

WOMEN SUFFER

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have immediate assistance.

How many women do you know who are perfectly well and strong? The cause may be easily traced to some feminine derangement which manifests itself in depression of spirits, reluctance to go anywhere or do anything, backache, dragging sensations, flatulency, nervousness, and sleeplessness.

These symptoms are but warnings that there is danger ahead, and unless heeded, a life of suffering or a serious operation is the inevitable result. The best remedy for all these symptoms is

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Made from native roots and herbs. No other medicine in the country has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female ills.

Miss J. E. Walsh, of 328 W. 36th St., New York City, writes:—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been of inestimable value in restoring my health. I suffered from female illness which caused dreadful headaches, dizziness, and dull pains in my back, but your medicine soon brought about a change in my general condition, built me up and made me perfectly well."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cures Female Complaints, such as Backache, Falling and Displacements, Indigestion and Ulceration, and organic diseases. It is invaluable in preparing for child-birth and during the Change of Life. It cures Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility, and invigorates the whole system.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free.

Out of the Mouths of Babes.

Though an aristocrat from head to foot, 5-year-old Bernice came to kindergarten with her small hands chapped terribly, an evidence of lack of grooming that astonished Miss Violet.

"Bernice," she suggested, "ask your mamma to put some cold cream on your hands, so they won't hurt and be rough." But the hands grew no better. After several days Miss Violet asked:

"Did you tell your mamma about the cold cream, Bernice?"

The child looked up solemn eyed. "My hands can't be chapped. Mamma says it's only 'mortal mind,' and I must get over it." Then Miss Violet remembered that "mamma" was a Christian Scientist.—Lippincott's Magazine.

Little Ills of Children

Mothers and all others who have children about the house cannot do their families a better service than to learn of simple and reliable remedies that correct children's ailments. Many grown people are suffering today for the ignorance or negligence of those who had charge of their bringing up.

Children are prone to constipation, and if it isn't corrected early, the bowels get in the habit of not working normally and soon chronic constipation results that may last off and on all through life. Then children eat almost continually and as a consequence indigestion sets in soon followed by worms, stomach pains, or diarrhea, or any one of a dozen other troubles. To say that it will right itself is putting together too much faith in chance. It is trying with the child's present and future health.

A better way is to give the child a dose of something intended to cure that very trouble, and getting better for the purpose is known than but a gently and as it has a pleasant taste or it bottle of your druggist and save the child from sickness. You should remember that a child whose stomach is in good working order is not likely to catch colds and fever diseases.

Mrs. Curry, of Trowbridge, Ill., attributes the remarkable recovery of her child to Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. "My son, Edgar, was a year and a half old when he was taken ill. He was very restless and would not take any food. I gave him Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in a few days he was as healthy as ever. I am sure that this medicine is a good working order for all children. It is guaranteed to do exactly as we claim, and the purity of ingredients is also vouched for."

FREE TEST Those wishing to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin before buying, may send for a sample bottle to their home by addressing the company. This offer is to grow to a remedy will do as we claim, and is only open to those who have not taken it. Send for it if you have any symptoms of stomach, liver or bowel disease. Gentest yet most effective laxative for children, women and old folk. Guaranteed to cure. THE PUBLIC VERDICT: "No Laxative so Good and Sure as DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPsin." BASEBALL NEWS

Eddie Brabie Coming Back.

Eddie Brabie, a star catcher, who graduated from the Paducah commons, is to return to Paducah bringing with him Jack Golden, a star infielder. Brabie and Golden are employed at Herrin, Ill., and play with the semi-professional team of that place. Brabie is a strong hitter and a fast catcher, and Golden is said to be exceptionally fast on his feet, and sure with the stick. They have secured employment in the Paducah Illinois Central shops and will play with the independents. Manager Hollan is in a quandry. Lee Hart and Ulysses Arnold, his star pitchers, have left the city. Hart with the Bloomer Girls and Arnold to St. Louis. He is looking for a good twirler.

Manager Hollan is corresponding with Princeton Ky., for a game Sunday, and will know by tomorrow if he can arrange the date.

Why Servants Left.

John N. Bogart, commissioner of licenses, has revoked the license of Arnold Friedman, an employment agent of No. 169 East Third street, who, according to the commissioner, placed a servant in a position after collecting a fee from her employer and the day after sent a runner to induce the girl to leave the place so that he could use her to fill another vacancy and collect another fee. That is a favorite trick, with some agents, said the commissioner, who thus get for themselves an additional financial advantage from the scarcity of servants.—New York Post.

In order that the steamer Chattanooga may leave on time at noon today, says the Chattanooga Times, a large force of men worked until after 12 o'clock last night loading her with the large cargo of merchandise which she will carry to Paducah. On account of the low stage of the river it was necessary that the steamer be loaded in time to leave at noon.

The Chattanooga arrived yesterday about 10:30 a. m. and as soon as she was unloaded the work of putting the Chattanooga merchandise aboard was started. The cargo consisting in consisted principally of country produce, such as chickens, eggs, butter and other commodities. Most of it was consigned to local dealers.

There were between 25 and 30 through passengers from Paducah on the boat. They spent the day on Lookout mountain, or going over Chickamauga park, and will leave today for the return trip. This will probably be the last excursion into Chattanooga from Paducah this season, as the river is so low that navigation with the big steamers may be suspended after this trip.

The Patten came in two or three hours later from Decatur with a large cargo. The Chattanooga makes no stops between Decatur and Chattanooga, and all business between these points is handled by the Patten. This boat had a large passenger list and was loaded to the guards with freight. She will remain at the wharf until tomorrow noon.

This morning the gauge read 17.9, a fall of 1.1 since yesterday.

During July 3.2 inches of rain fell. An excellent stage has been maintained during the entire month, and all the boat repairing companies are suffering for business as the boats, as long as nothing serious prevents them, keep running and will wait until shallow water before trying up for repairs. Many rivermen predict a low stage this fall, and then all the boats will rush the docks and ways for minor repairs and some for general overhauling. During the month the highest stage, 19.5 was reached on the 29th, and the lowest, 10.4, came on July 12 and 13. In going over the record for several years back for July, the highest stage for many years was 19.9 on July 4, 1905. In other years the stage has been so low as to hinder traffic.

One real wild west show was on the Dick Fowler this morning when she left for Cairo, in addition to the regular freight. The show is going to Dexter, Mo., and is billed to J. H. Sullivan, but bears the name of Broncho John's Wild West. Twelve whooping cowboys were passengers, and 16 Mexican ponies were taken along. On the deck of the boat was an old stage coach that attracted much attention from the river people. According to the show manager, the stage ran between St. Joseph, Mo., and San Francisco and four trips were made between 1861 and 1869. It is strong and steady and good for service today, despite the evidence of rough treatment it has had. The show is from Henderson and only fairs are played, it being an open air exhibition and is used to attract crowds and no admission is charged. Much of their tents for the horses and other paraphernalia were shipped by freight direct to St. Joseph, where they will exhibit at the fair.

More barges continue to arrive at Joppa and the strike situation is in statu quo. Each side is waiting for the other to make the break and come over, although the river men look forward to a settlement being reached in the next few days. The Blue Spot, of the Holcomb-Hayes Tie company, is at Joppa and she left today for the Cumberland river after trials, having gotten enough empty barges to make a trip. Many of the colored laborers have left Joppa and have come to Brookport to work for the Ayer & Lord Tie company.

The Dick Fowler arrived late last night on account of the heavy shipments of wheat from the lower part of the river to Metropolis. Last night many bags were unloaded. Other freight was good, and the passenger business continues to swell. Not all of the passenger business is excursionists, for many of the merchants are sending out their salesmen to the small river towns.

A new cabin is being built on the Royal, and the work will probably be finished sometime this week. Business has increased so far this little packet that freight is crowding out the passengers. The cabin will be for women, and all comforts will be arranged for them. Both trips were made on time today by the Royal.

The Lydia is tied at the wharf waiting the arrival of Inspectors Green and St. John, who are expected August 1. After the inspection it is undecided what will be done until after the strike goes one way or another.

The J. B. Finley passed down yesterday for the south with a tow of over 50 barges loaded with coal.

The Joe Fowler was in today from Evansville with a good trip.

The Bob Dudley arrived last night from the Tennessee river and left today on the return trip. The freight trip in was light, but shipments were

The C. M. Pate will probably get away Saturday for Nashville. Repairs are about finished and as the stage is good the trip will be made.

Barges for the Ayer & Lord Tie company are being repaired on the ways this week and plenty of work in this line has been found.

Official Forecasts.

The Ohio at Evansville and Mt. Vernon will continue falling during the next 24 to 36 hours, then rise. At Paducah and Cairo will continue falling during the next several days.

The Tennessee from Florence to the mouth will probably continue falling slowly during the next 24 hours.

The Mississippi from below St. Louis to Cairo will continue falling during the next several days.

NOTHING DOING BY SCHOOL BOARD

Met and Argued and Adjourned Last Night.

Superintendent Lieb's August Salary Again Subject of the Discussion.

SAY MOTION IS OUT OF ORDER.

After a long discussion at a called session last night, the school board, although embodied in the call was the settlement with Superintendent Lieb, is little closer to the fulfilling of its contract or to the motion, which was passed unanimously at the regular meeting in June, that when Superintendent Lieb handed to the board his report, keys and office that he would be allowed his salary and granted leave of absence for the remainder of the year. When the superintendent arose after Trustee Mammen had made the motion to adjourn, he requested that the matter be settled last night, so he might know what to do definitely, a second was secured to the motion, and without a murmur the members voted "aye" and grabbed their hats and started for home.

During much of the discussion Trustee Kelly had the motion before the house that Superintendent Lieb be allowed his salary according to contract, and Mr. Clements seconded it. President Potter vigorously fought the payment of Mr. Lieb's salary according to contract, he asserting that to pay him until September would be paying on two contracts, although only one could be found. President Potter left the chair many times, and opposed the allowing of the salary. Superintendent Lieb stated he had done his best to fulfill his part of the contract and of the motion in June to hand in his report in time. He said the board was in a great hurry, and pushed Superintendent Lieb for it. He said he was ready at any time to do anything to comply.

Trustee Beckenbach had a letter from Dr. Pitcher, secretary of the board when the contract was made, who had been sent a duplicate of the contract and said he would have to see the original, to tell if any changes could be made. Prof. Lieb said he was absent when the contract was drawn, and that he did not know who drew it up, but he signed it in good faith. The point came up when the time had been changed from August to September, and the three old members could not remember, and a look could not be had at the minutes because Secretary Byrd did not bring them. Thus without the official records the board guessed no change had been made.

The point was then made that Trustee Kelly's motion was out of order; for in the June meeting it was passed unanimously to pay Superintendent Lieb as soon as he had handed to the board his report and keys. Both have been in for some weeks, and Trustee Beckenbach took the report and read it. Pauses were frequent at which he doubted the veracity, and attempted to break down certain statements. Trustee Kelly withdrew his motion, with the consent of Trustee Clements, his second, and the motion to receive the report carried. Once more President Potter gained the floor and said the president and secretary could not sign a check for the salary, until a time was specified, although in the June meeting the contract was specified in the motion. Trustee Beckenbach made the motion to allow Superintendent Lieb the salary for July, and all voted "aye," with the exception of Trustee Kelly. Trustee Clements did not vote.

No Contract.
President Potter in his speeches grew rather warm and asserted "there is no contract; there can be no contract," and that the contract reading September 1 was null. When the board wished to read the report of the minutes of the session when the contract was made, the secretary did not have the minutes, and so he proceeded to give a verbal account from memory, in which Superintendent Lieb informed the board statements made as to his being present at the drawing of the contract were false.

The motion was made by Trustee Kelly that flags be placed on the nine buildings. As computed the cost would be about $180, and President Potter left the chair to protest to the purchase of the flags. Other members wanted flags, but the question of finance prevented them from voting "aye" and the motion was lost.

Trouble over getting a large flue lining for the new buildings was reported, and the contractors say they can substitute fire brick. The large size lining is not made now, and the board left it to the discretion of Mr. Hoyer, whether a special order should be made, or whether fire brick should be substituted.

While on improving buildings Mr. Kelly brought up the matter of improving the auditorium of the High school, by repairing the plastering and kalsomining the walls. The motion carried unanimously. New chairs are being placed in the auditorium, but the work will cease for several days so the work on the walls may be done at once.

If permission may be gotten from the board of public works to connect the High school with the sewer main bids will be advertised for the work. The sanitary committee will have charge of the work. Superintendent Carnagey will select the color for the walls.

More than 3,000 square feet of boards are needed for the new buildings, and the board had a contract with a firm that manufactures Armstrong Artificial blackboards. The price will be 15 1/2 cents per square foot, and the board authorized the contract to be made.

Trustee M. L. Price, who succeeds Trustee Brame, was sworn into the board and took his seat last night. Absentees were: Karnes, Metcalf and Morris.

The Sun was the only newspaper that had a reporter present at meeting. Trustee Beckenbach reported the meeting for the morning paper.

PLAYS UNKNOWN MUSIC WITH EYES BLINDFOLDED.

Munich, Bavaria, July 31.—Medical circles are deeply perplexed over the phenomenal performances of a young woman who is known for the present as Miss Nydia. She is a pretty, delicate looking blonde girl with dreamy blue eyes and a frightened expression. Her manager refuses to tell where she is from.

Nydia appeared before a committee of Munich physicians, sat down at a piano and played in the ordinary way a concerto. Before her there was a large mirror and behind her another. Her manager sat by her side and kept his gaze riveted on her eyes. The end of the concerto was played very faintly and as the last notes were struck it was evident that Nydia was falling into a profound hypnotic sleep.

Her eyes were then bound with a thick cloth. Over this an impenetrable black cloth was drawn and cotton wool was stuffed by a doctor present into all spaces left between her skin and the cloth. A program was handed around containing some twenty pieces of music. The persons present were asked to underline any particular piece which they wished to hear. This was handed to the manager, who stood at 50 paces from Nydia with his back turned toward her. The girl without a word or sign, passing between her and the manager, played the requested piece.

Unknown pieces were passed up, among them music in manuscript never played before. Nydia had no difficulty. The manager held the music and she played it without hesitation, slower, perhaps than required and with some mistakes, but on the whole accurately.

WOMEN IN LAW.

Ida Husted Harper writing in "The World Today" on the work of the International Council of Women has this to say about the legal position of women in the civilized world:

A very good beginning has been made toward a compilation of the laws in all countries relating to women. Last year Baroness von Beschwitz, chairman of the committee on legal position of women sent out four questions to be answered.

1. "Does an alien (a woman) acquire the nationality of your country by marrying one of its citizens?" Every council but one answered "yes." Australia in 1904 passed an act giving the wife the right to choose.

2. "Does a woman lose her own nationality by marrying an alien?" She does everywhere except that in Australia "British-born women retain full rights irrespective of the husband's nationality."

3. "In case of divorce or death of husband can the married woman regain her nationality?" In the United States and Denmark she cannot. In Canada, Great Britain, Australia, Switzerland and Holland, if a natural born subject, she can do this in case of divorce only; in Italy, France, Hungary and Norway she must agree to reside in her native country if her nationality is restored; in Austria she must first live there 10 years.

4. "Can a woman during the lifetime of her husband apply for naturalization?" In all countries "no," except that in Sweden, if both are aliens, the wife may under some circumstances be naturalized; in Denmark, if both are aliens, she can still regain her own nationality if the husband applies to be naturalized there; in Austria only the divorced wife has this privilege; in Australia all wives have the full right to do so.

The report from Australia was accompanied by a note saying that when the naturalization act was being framed a few years ago, a committee of women went to parliament and protested against a woman's nationality being in any way dependent on her husband. As they represented a vast body of voters their protest was heeded, and Australia is the only country where the wife is not compelled to become of the same nationality as her husband. The women of the United States have for years petitioned congress to change this unjust law but have received only scant consideration.

A Chance for an Oyster Romance.
The time approaches when some alert novelist belonging to what may be called the Fauna School of Fiction will make a hero of an oyster. Attorney General Jackson, in a letter to the state tax department, says that the courts have held that oysters are "wild animals," and only become personal property when they are reclaimed or artificially planted. "Such domesticated, tame, or 'garden' oysters," he adds, "would be assessable as personal property." The possibilities here suggested for a splendid romance, tracing the tragic career of a well-born oyster from its free, wild youth, through its period of captivity, and ending with the hero's sensational destruction by fire, either in a milk stew or broiled on toast, will appeal, surely, to some nature novelist who finds that his competitors are rapidly exhausting the list of wild animals still available for fiction.—New York Times.

Tolerant Lot.
"There is no prejudice in the United States against an American of good character."
"What do you mean?"
"Just what I say. So long as he behaves himself the Czechs, Greeks, Finns, Croats and other citizens will all stand for him."—Pittsburg Post.

THE TRUTH.

Regardless of the original merits of the controversy between Superintendent Lieb of the city schools and certain members of the school board, and caring little enough whether he receives from the board the sum represented by his stipulated salary for the month of August, in view of the fact that a personally interested trustee is reporting the proceedings of the board for one paper, and another is (so far as we know) copying its reports from the first one, The Sun feels it a duty to put the issue squarely for the benefit of those trustees, who are insisting that the board carry out its obligations.

There is a subsisting, written contract between Superintendent Lieb and the school board, expiring by its terms, September 1, 1907. This contract was ordered by the school board one year ago last March, at least two months before it was signed by the president and secretary of the board and by Superintendent Lieb, and The Sun some time since reproduced the published reports of that meeting from the News-Democrat and the morning paper, in which it was stated that the contract should expire September 1.

It is true that the contract for the year preceding ended August 1, and there was a hiatus of one month before the inception of the last contract, but it is a fact, nevertheless, that Superintendent Lieb remained in Paducah and worked that month. Whether there was a mistake on the part of the school board, of which Trustee Beckenbach was a member, or not, seems to make no difference, the contract was drawn as ordered by the board, and signed, apparently in good faith.

But, it is not on this point, that Trustee Clements and his colleagues stand. The question of whether Superintendent Lieb should pay back that August salary for 1906, does not enter into the subject of the contract for 1907. At a meeting held the night of June 10, which President (then vice-president) Potter attended, Trustee Pete Beckenbach, who reports the meetings for the morning paper, made a motion, which carried, without dissent. The motion was reported in The Sun, the only newspaper that had a duly accredited reporter at the meeting, as follows:

"Trustee Beckenbach made a motion, which was adopted, to allow Superintendent Lieb his salary in advance for August and give him the month as a vacation."

In the morning paper, for which Trustee Beckenbach does the reporting, it appeared as follows:

"Member Beckenbach stated that Mr. Lieb was of no further benefit to the schools, and the schools of no further service to him, therefore when he wound up all his business with the educational system that he be given a leave of absence until September 1, when his contract expires. He will get his salary until September 1, but the board will not call on him for any services, and he can leave the city or go wherever he pleases, as that is the will of the board."

The News-Democrat comes along with:

"Supt. Lieb was voted a leave of absence that he might sever his connection with the schools at once, indirectly if not directly. His term does not expire until September, but the board wants to dissolve all connections between the ex-superintendent and themselves now that the schools have closed and a successor has been chosen."

In accordance with this agreement, Superintendent Lieb did all things required of him in the motion. It is this agreement and obligation, which Trustee Clements insists shall be lived up to. While Trustee Clements is a Democrat, and the papers of his own party are praising the men opposing him, as those guarding the interests and funds of the people, The Sun, ever zealous to protect the honor and good name of the schools, would put in the right light a trustee, who is seeking only to set a good example in honesty and consistency for the children of Paducah.

If we had thought the prosecution of Haywood would give Emma Goldman any pain—

While sociologists of different kinds are engaged in animated discussion of "social unrest" at Saratoga, the Belmonts, of Newport, have been entertaining a chimpanzee, who knows how to select his forks; the Saturday Evening Post is inveighing against that marvelous instrument; and the rest of humanity, sweltering in the city heat, is reduced to a common level of dishabille.

Doesn't Senator Foraker know it is wrong to commit suicide?

To hear free traders talk, one would think they were the original tariff revisionists. Now, we know, one can't revise a thing by destroying it.

Says the News-Democrat: "It must be evident to all that had the court of appeals sustained the election of 1905 there would have been little chance for the state ticket in Louisville. The probability is that the Republicans would have carried the city by a big vote, insuring the defeat, perhaps, of Hager for governor, and Beckham for senator."

And if that city should go Republican, now?

No American flags for this school board.

A PARALLEL CASE.

When the Democratic faction that rode into supremacy at last spring's primary on a minority vote, abused the city administration and the police department. The Sun suggested that the leaders were abusing some mighty good Democratic workers, who might be useful along about election time. The Courier-Journal echoes this sentiment in summing up the Louisville situation in the following editorial:

"If the Courier-Journal were the relentless enemy of the gentlemen lately appointed by the governor of Kentucky to rule over the city of Louisville and the county of Jefferson, it could not wish them to put themselves in an attitude at once more vulnerable and indefensible than that assumed in their name by Mr. Bingham, the ad-interim mayor."

"It is not their enemy. If it had the power, it would nominate each and every one of them for the places they have been chosen temporarily to fill. The men ousted from these places—no matter how cogent their argument may seem or how strong their case and their claim may appear to themselves—have everything to lose and nothing to gain, by a contest. That would surely bring to them not only defeat but discredit and loss of prestige. For the present at least the Beckham appointees are in the saddle and have the whip hand."

"The failure of Mr. Bingham to see this may cost him a promising future. If he is elected in November it must be through the instrumentality of the men he, and his freak newspaper organ, are so bitterly denouncing. If he and his colleagues be Democrats, if they would not have themselves impress the public as mere hand-made hemaphrodites, they should realize that the wanton humiliation of all who have gone before them and the ruthless disregard of the party law in their favor, spells disaster. It spells disaster not only to them, but to Governor Beckham, their creator, and to the Democratic state ticket."

"In party affairs and political relations there must not only be comity and agreement, but logical consistency, in order to procure concert of action, and what hope of this can be entertained by the reversal of all the rules which have presided over upright and loyal fellowship? Issues only are potential when they are sound and true. Gentlemen holding no other commissions than those emanating from an open scandal and the always detested one-man power, are not in a position effectively to rail against machine methods. Gentlemen claiming to be Democrats and demanding the support of Democrats do but spit each in his own face, when they choose for their mouthpiece and attorney a newspaper which reeks with years of vilification heaped by it upon Democrats, and upon Democracy, and all things Democratic. A campaign of reform organized by star-chamber process and supported by the best known hoodlums and grafters in town could hope only to win by force and fraud, and yet this is the banquet which Mr. Bingham, according to his attitude last Friday evening and his published statement of Sunday, would spread and ask Democrats to applaud and attend. It is the very apotheosis of madness and folly, ruinous to the party, and, as we feel entirely sure, ruinous to all concerned in it."

"The Republicans have at length put their ticket in the field. No one can say that it is not a strong ticket. In the field. No one can say that it is not a strong ticket. Many of the gentlemen named upon it carry the credentials of the odious newspaper under whose blithing shadow Mr. Bingham, and his colleagues, have ranged themselves. But yesterday that newspaper, supporting many of these Republicans, was denouncing the men upon whom Mr. Bingham must rely for his votes, as 'crooks' and 'thieves,' whilst he, by his actions and demands now echoes that denunciation. Was ever such fatuity heard of outside of Bedlam, or Vaudeville, Comic Opera, or Wonderland, the Buckingham Theater, or the Lake-Lunatic Asylum?"

"It would be to laugh if it were not to cry. To such base uses has Democracy come that, in order to carry out the policy of hatred and revenge inaugurated by Governor Beckham, who is nothing if not a machine politician, the party should masquerade in the persons of Kohn, Whalen and Knott. Must all good but dissenting Democrats be labeled 'crooks' and 'thieves,' by Mr. Bingham, who but a short time ago was himself labeled as one of the 'crooks' and 'thieves,' yet who, with the governor's commission, and the money of these very 'crooks' and 'thieves,' in his pocket, now turns and joins in the belated 'stop thief' cry, raised by Governor Beckham, who owes all he has to these self-same 'crooks' and 'thieves'?"

Is there no such thing as personal integrity and political fidelity, has perfidy become a virtue and treachery one of the fine arts, to blur the grace of manhood and take the rose of honor from the fair forehead of Kentucky and Democracy and set a blister there?"

"Forbid it, Satan, for God in Heaven will wash his hands of such Democracy and such Reform!"

IN THE COURTS

In Bankruptcy.

An amended petition, listing $1,500 worth of real estate and $35 in money was filed by John B. Ballanger, bankrupt, of Marshall county, with Referee E. W. Bagby. Ballanger alleges that he thought the property, which is located in Tennessee, belonged to the state, having been formally bought in for delinquent taxes. The property was discovered when Ballanger had his first examination by creditors.

Referee Bagby ordered $150 paid into the bankrupt estate of the E. Rehkopf Saddlery company by Rice, Ogden & Mansfield, of Monticello, Miss. The money was collected on a draft for goods sold the firm.

Referee E. W. Bagby this morning received papers referring the involuntary bankruptcy matter of the Paducah Furniture Manufacturing company to him. He has called for a schedule of liabilities and assets.

Police Court.

When Annie Belle Dixon, colored, swore in police court this morning that she did not use profanity on a street car, Police Judge D. A. Cross continued the charge of drunk and disorderly and issued instead a warrant for false swearing. Other cases: Bill Ramager and Pearl Powers, immorality, continued; B. Mattingly, drunkenness, $1 and costs and suspended.

Marriage License.

Parker Ripley to Bessie Amdell.

County Court.

Garfield Cook was today appointed administrator of Lizzie Cook. The will of Mrs. Anna Parham, wife of Frank L. Parham, was filed for probate this morning in county court. The instrument is dated June 27, 1902, but a codicil follows in which a change of executor is made. The first appointment of executor was the late Colonel Ed P. Noble. The codicil makes Mr. L. M. Rieke executor. Mrs. Parham leaves to her husband a life interest in all her property, including rents, dividends, etc. After his death she bequeaths to her sister, Mrs. Lucy Overbey, wife of Hon. H. C. Overbey, the entire estate. No inventory of the estate is made.

Auditorium Company.

Articles of incorporation of the "Auditorium company," were filed yesterday afternoon in county court. The incorporators are: Messrs. J. F. Purcell, Lexington; C. W. Thompson, city, and Hal S. Corbett, city. The capital stock is fixed at $15,000, divided into 150 shares of $100 each. Stock is owned as follows: Purcell, 50 shares; Thompson, 50 and Corbett, 20. The purpose of the corporation is to build a skating rink and auditorium at Tenth and Broadway at once.

Making of Thimbles.

Thimbles are such a common article that scarcely anyone stops to think of their construction. They are ordinarily made of iron, steel, silver or gold; the metal pressed into dies of all sizes, then punched, tempered and polished after ward. Some are made of brass and washed with a white metal, but their lasting quality is of but short duration.

The very best thimbles are said to be made in Paris and it is said that nowhere else is the same variety constructed. To give the proper shape, a disk of sheet iron is punched into the desired form, then the hollows for the needle are made. The thimble is entirely finished and then by a very peculiar process is converted into finely-tempered steel. It is covered with gold-leaf, lined, and will last for years, and when worn the gold can be renewed.

He Didn't Care.

The usual large crowd was gathered at the New York end of the Brooklyn bridge waiting for trolley cars. An elderly lady, red in the face, flustered and fussy, dug her elbows into convenient ribs, irrespective of owners.

A fat man on her left was the recipient of a particularly vicious jab. She yelled at him, "Say!"

He winced slightly and moved to one side. She, too, side-stepped and thumped him viciously on the back.

"Say!" she persisted, "does it make any difference which of these cars I take to Greenwood cemetery?" "Not to me, madam," he answered, slipping through an opening in the crowd.

Schmitz Fills Vacancies.

San Francisco, July 31.—Eugene E. Schmitz, the convicted mayor today made appointments to fill the vacancies created by the forced resignations of fourteen of the board of supervisors. Schmitz claims the right of appointing on the ground that he is still the rightful mayor of San Francisco.

Little Boy Ambushed.

Barboursville, W. Va., July 31.—Roy King, 13 years old, living near here, while passing along the public road last evening, was shot from ambush. Children with whom he had rouble are suspected.

TAILORING

THE Fall Woolens are now ready and we will take pleasure in showing them to you any day. Come in and talk the Fall Clothes matter over with us before you leave your order. We'll show you the new fabrics—post you on styles. You can then take your time to consider the matter.

You know, as well as we know, that the limit of Fine Tailoring is represented in the cleverly created garments we produce.

WE'RE MASTERS OF THE TAILORING ART

While we're not cheap tailors, neither are we high priced. No fancy prices here.

When a tailor says $15 or $30 for a suit it MEANS NOTHING. What that tailor gives you for your money is what interests you—that means everything.

IRISH STRIKE

AGGRAVATED BY REVOLT OF UNDERPAID POLICEMEN.

Force at Cork Calls Meeting in Sympathy With Fellow Servants at Belfast.

Belfast, July 31.—That the authorities view seriously the situation arising from the strike of the dock laborers for increased pay and shorter hours, which have been aggravated by a revolt of the police who are demanding more pay because of the extra work the strike entails, is evidenced by the arrival here today of the First Battalion of Cameron Highlanders, Maxam gun and detachment of cavalry. It is expected that six thousand troops will be in Belfast within a few days. The number of emergency magistrates was increased and additional police inspectors are arriving. The strikers were active today and several dock carts were overturned.

Police Call Meeting.

Cork, July 31.—The police of this city are in full sympathy with the Belfast force in demand for increased pay. They have asked the permission of the Inspector general to hold a public meeting to discuss the grievance. A circular to this effect was sent to all police stations in Munster.

NO CLUE IS FOUND.

To Murder of Two Women in New York—Committed by Same Person.

New York, July 31.—At a late hour last night no arrests had been made in the cases of the two women who were strangled to death and whose bodies were discovered early today. The detectives were unable to find any traces of the murderers. The woman who was found dead with a necktie around her throat in the boarding house on Twenty-second street, has been identified under several names.

HOT WEATHER SUGGESTIONS.

Every chance acquaintance, these hot days, can tell you what to do to keep well and cool, but the safest advice is keep close to Nature.

Nature says don't drink very much ice water—use the tempered water.

Don't eat heating dishes, warm meats, and heavy vegetables, but confine yourselves to light vegetables and fruits, and cold meats.

Nature, also, says, and its injunction is in strong terms, to keep the system in good condition, the liver, bowels, stomach, kidneys and skin as every one contributes to health or ill health.

Osteopathy is Nature's treatment, and the most rational for all disease, especially the ailments incident to hot weather. Those weak, tired out and run-down conditions; dull headaches; disturbed bowel conditions, and torpid liver yield quickly to its application.

But, let me tell you any time, of people you know well, who will cheerfully tell you what Osteopathy has done and is doing for them. That is unprejudiced evidence and will appeal to you. Dr. G. B. Froese, 516 Broadway, upstairs, Phone 1407.

eral names. It now seems probable that she is Mrs. Sophia Kehler, wife of Jacob Kehler, of Buffalo. The police found no clue to the identity of the body found in the area way in East Nineteenth street. It is believed that the crimes were committed by the same person, as both bodies were mutilated in the same manner.

NEGRO KILLED IN BATTLE.

With Chicago Officers—Was ex-Convict—By-Standers Shot.

Chicago, July 31.—William Wood, a negro and ex-convict, was killed today by Police Sergeant Hertz, after a fierce revolver fight in which Wood and several other officers beside Hertz participated. Henry A. Noyes, a bystander, was shot in the abdomen by Wood. Wood was discovered in the basement of a bakery at 2348 Archer avenue. Officer F. J. McComb was sent to the place and when he demanded the surrender of Wood, the latter opened fire with a revolver. McComb returned the fire and the negro fled. Noyes was standing in front of his home, on South Sangamon street, when Wood passed. The bullet struck him in the abdomen. Noyes may not recover.

TENNIS PLAYERS

Have Greatest Games of Year at Western Tennis Tournament.

Chicago, July 31.—In one of the greatest games seen in single this year, Wallace S. Johnson, of Philadelphia, defeated Harold H. Hackett of New York, in today's play at the Western Tennis tournament at Onwards. Hackett defaulted in the second set when the score was 7-5, 5-5. Hackett was exhausted. Another spirited match was that between Carl Neelm and Paul Gardner. Neelm won 6-0, 9-6, 6-2. All the other visiting players won their matches in both singles and doubles. At the end of the play the tournament advanced to the third round in singles and doubles.

HAS MAYOR TURNED SMUGGLER

His Warehouse, Goods and Papers Are Seized and He Is Missing.

El Paso, Tex., July 31.—Sylviano Montemayor, mayor of Juarez, has disappeared. Juarez has been excited since the capture of some smugglers and the arrest of over 30 persons including six prominent business men.

Today the federal authorities seized 14 cars consigned as coal to Montemayor and found five cars loaded with dry goods, clothing and shoes. A thin layer of coal covered the merchandise.

Montemayor's warehouse, goods and papers were seized also.

Teacher Kills Herself.

Detroit, July 31.—Belle Donaldson, teacher in Latin in Central High school, committed suicide today by tying a rope around her neck and fastening it to a bed post, strangling herself to death. She had been suffering from insomnia a long time.

About the first thing a woman requires when she takes up the study of art is a mirror.

Largest Horse in the World.

"Nebraska Queen," the largest mare on earth, is a product of the breeding farm of S. E. Sparks, at Falls City, Neb., and is being exhibited in Kansas just now. Mr. Sparks is the horse world what Burbank, the noted Californian, is to the world of vegetables and fruit. It is his purpose to make two big horses grow where one little one grew before, and he is doing it. He has raised a number of large horses, but none so large and perfect as "Nebraska Queen." She is 20 hands and 1 inch high, 11 feet 8 inches in girth, 32 inches length of head 9 feet 3 inches girth, 42-inch shoulder, 29-inch throat, 20-inch collar and weighs over 2800 pounds. She is perfect in every proportion, kind, gentle and intelligent, of beautiful color and is truly a model horse.—Kansas City Star.

Easy for Sherlock.

A detective had been put on an anonymous letter case. The recipient of the letter said to him: "The thing consisted of but a short page, and yet there were eleven words spelled wrong."

"Then the criminal," said the detective, promptly, "was either a typewriter or a sign painter. Is there a business directory handy?"—Argonaut.

French Election Returns.

Paris, July 31.—Complete returns from the local elections of members to the general council showed that the governmental party gained 84 seats. The losses of the opposition follow: Reactionaries, 20; Nationalists, 17; Progressives, 47.

There can be no recreation in the indulgence that leads to regret.

"The Mercy of Coming Events."

We must all wonder, for a moment now and then, what strange new "brew" is being prepared for us by the busy forces which we name "Circumstances."

In the home life the exit of a servant; in the store, "something happens" to our best clerks; in every business venture something "upsets" our favorite plan. If we own property, our best tenant leaves, or our neighbor sells his property at a big profit—while we "hold on" to ours, not willingly.

Emerson expressed it: "Man imprisoned in mortal life, lies open to the mercy of coming events."

And the truth has led us to consider ways and means for "taking the sting out of" these coming events—for turning them into endurable burdens. And of these ways and means which we have created, the chiefest is Want Advertising. A wise use of this modern convenience, this instrument of service, not only makes coming events merciful—it makes us to contemplate them without trepidation.

NEW METHOD IS ADOPTED BY DISBURSING OFFICERS.

Washington, July 31.—Secretary Cortelyou directed promulgation regulations to carry out recommendations of the committee on the department methods relative to the assembling of the disbursing officers checks and vouchers, the verification of their balances by the auditors of the treasury department. The new system contemplates that the paid checks of the disbursing officers are to be received by auditors and be compared by those officers with the vouchers in payment of which they are issued.

The order, which will be effective October 1, applied to the accounts of all branches of government service except those relating to postal revenues and expenditures therefrom, accounts of pension agents and the moneys in the registry of the courts. This is the most important change in the accounting system since 1894.

FEAT BY AN ALPINE CLIMBER.

Milanese Scales Hitherto Unconquered Peak 11,400 Feet High.

Geneva, July 31.—Another hitherto unclimbed Alpine mountain has been conquered by Sig. Castelnovo, a Milanese, who ascended the highest of three peaks called the Dames Anglaise in the Mont Blanc range. It is 11,400 feet high, the last few hundred yards being smooth, practically perpendicular rock, towering above a dizzy precipice. Nearly all the most celebrated mountain climbers in Europe, including the duke of Abruzzi, vainly have attacked the peak, which had come to be regarded as inaccessible. Sig. Castelnovo occupied 12 hours in making the ascent.

Hanley on Issues of the Day.

Elkhart, Ind., July 31.—Governor Hanley, in an address before the Chautauque assembly here today, took issue with Senator Beveridge's child labor ideas. STATE WANTS FARMHANDS.

Missouri Employes in Demand at $20 to $40 a Month.

Washington, July 31.—In response to an inquiry from the immigration bureau, George B. Ellis, secretary of the Missouri board of agriculture, with headquarters at Columbia, Mo., says there is a great demand for agricultural labor in Missouri at wages from $20 to $40 a month. The state is offering special inducements to secure new settlers, and many people can find employment by going there. Ellis says that of all foreigners Missouri prefers the German immigrants.

PITS CHILD ON STOVE.

Horrible Crime of Drunken Pole at Orange, N. J.

Oswego, N. Y., July 31.—A drunken Pole, a stranger in this city, entered the home of Charles Leonard, No. 238 East Second street, today, took a 7-months-old baby from a crib where it was sleeping and placed it on a red-hot kitchen stove. The cries of the child brought the mother, who had left the house for a minute. The police were called and the man was arrested.

The baby was badly burned.

Eric Canal Bed Sinks.

Syracuse, N. Y., July 31.—The some arches that support the bed of the Erie canal, at a point near the center of this city, where it passes over Onondaga creek, gave way this afternoon and four canal boats were drawn into the bed of the creek beneath, fifty feet of the wall of the three story Empire mill fell into the water and the Bartels and Greenway breweries, respectively on the north and south banks of the canal, were threatened with demolition.

That Shouting Huckster.

But why should the huckster proclaim his coming with a vociferousness that can be heard three blocks away? The yelling may stimulate business, but those who do business in stores do not find such methods necessary, and why should it be so with the hucksters? There is no pressing demand that the huckster be abolished entirely, but city life would be much more pleasant and the last cat nap more soothing if some way could be found to suppress the yell.

Woman's Nightmare

No woman's happiness can be complete without children; it is her nature to love and want them as much as it is to love the beautiful and pure. The critical ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so fraught with dread, pain, suffering and danger, that the very thought of it fills her with apprehension and horror. There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either painful or dangerous. The use of Mother's Friend so prepares the system for the coming event that it is safely passed without any danger. This great and wonderful remedy is always applied externally, and has carried thousands of women through the trying crisis without suffering.

REVIVAL OF OLD INNS.

Automobiles Have Given Old Taverns a New Lease of Life.

When the railway superseded the diligence, the coach, the chaise and the stage, the "disobedient" as means of European travel, it was natural that the small roadside inn should suffer loss of patronage, says the Travel Magazine.

Your tourist, unless a sentimental journeyer like Sterne and Stevenson, began to leap by rail from spot to spot, like a grasshopper upon a map. He breakfasted in London, took train lunched in Brighton, New Haven or Dover, had tea at Calais or Dieppe and supped in Paris.

Now with dining cars he's even worse, unless he is a motorist—a sentimental motorist. And despite speed and humors of speed, there are such things as sentimental motorists. Indeed, it is owing very largely to this class that such of the old inns of France and England as managed to survive the introduction of the railroads have blossomed into renewed prosperity and usefulness.

SECOND TRAGEDY DEEPENS MYSTERY

Young Man Follows Girl to Suicide's Grave.

Laura Matthews Kills Herself at Colorado Springs and Amos Rumbaugh Does, Too.

IS DYING IN THE HOSPITAL.

Colorado Springs, Col., July 31.—Amos R. Rumbaugh, a close friend of Laura Matthews, the young woman who committed suicide near Broadmoor Sunday night, added horror and mystery to the gruesome case by shooting himself through the head yesterday afternoon. He is dying in a hospital.

Rumbaugh committed the act in a room at the Alta Vista hotel. When the shot was fired is not known, as the deed was discovered only when the officers went to his room to ascertain why he had not responded to the subpoena to attend the coroner's inquest over Miss Matthews' body.

That the act of Rumbaugh was the direct result of the death of Miss Matthews is not doubted. He was to have appeared this afternoon as a witness at the inquest. Rumbaugh claimed to be but a chance acquaintance of the girl, but it developed that he knew her in Chicago, and also knew C. A. Coey, the wealthy Chicagoan, and Dr. H. A. Thomas, of "101 Ranch." He was frequently a member of parties at which Miss Matthews and the men referred to were present.

Rumbaugh accompanied Miss Green and the nurse to the livery stable about 5 o'clock Monday morning to see if the actress' horse had been returned. It was he who sent the telegram to Coey demanding that the latter "do the right thing by the girl," and it was with him that Miss Matthews left the letter in which she enclosed another letter to Coey.

The officers have not yet had time to examine Rumbaugh's effects and the coroner had the room locked. If Rumbaugh did not destroy the letters, it is believed they will show the facts that may entangle many persons of prominence. The telegram sent by Rumbaugh to Coey, taken in the light of his action, has more meaning now. It was as follows:

"Laura committed suicide on account of you. Letters left behind. Send $200 at once for expenses."

Rumbaugh was about 28 years of age. He is said to be the son of a wealthy Washington, D. C., family. A service medal of honor shows that he served with distinction in the Tenth Pennsylvania infantry in the Philippines.

Notes Explain Nothing.

Rumbaugh's death is expected hourly.

Two brief notes fail to explain his act. One note addressed "To whom it may concern," reads as follows: "Ship my body to Mrs. J. H. Rumbaugh, Mt. Pleasant, Pa., Westmoreland county. Notify the Travelers' Insurance company of Hartford, Conn., and the Fraternal Order of Eagles of Scottsdale, Pa."

"AMOS R. RUMBAUGH."

A second note was addressed to his mother, Mrs. J. H. Rumbaugh, at the above address:

"Dear Mother:—There is nothing for me to say as to why I did this awful deed, so lay my body away to rest. I have about $250 on my person, you and Charlie settle things up."

"Your son,
"RICHARD R. RUMBAUGH."

Cured Lung Trouble.

"It is now eleven years since I had a narrow escape from consumption," writes C. O. Floyd, a leading business man of Kershaw, S. C. "I had run down in weight to 135 pounds, and coughing was constant, both by day and by night. Finally I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and continued this for about six months, when my cough and lung trouble were entirely gone and I was restored to my normal weight, 170 pounds." Thousands of persons are healed every year. Guaranteed at all druggists, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Kitten Hospital Patient.

Bellevue hospital had a 4-months-old Maltese kitten for a patient last night, and at the pleading of its owner, an elderly man who looked as if he were well off, Dr. Leroy Smith set the dislocated shoulder of the little unfortunate.

Dr. Smith was greatly surprised when he was told by a stranger that he had a patient to be treated.

"Where is he?" asked the doctor. "I'm keeping him warm," came the reply as the man drew from under his coat a kitten that was crying faintly.

"We don't treat cats here," said Dr. Smith, but the look of disappointment on the man's face was too much for him, and he agreed to look over the feline patient. He found a dislocation of the right shoulder blade and after he had set it he covered it in a plaster cast.—New York Herald.

IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS.

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles. A Famous Citizen Shows How to Cure Them.

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame back or aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is just where the danger lies. You must cure these troubles or they may lead to diabetes or Bright's disease. The best remedy to use is Doan's Kidney Pills. It cures all ills which are caused by weak or diseased kidneys. Paducah people testify to permanent cures.

I. L. Davis, 219 Broadway, Paducah, Ky., says: "I have been greatly benefited by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured at DuBois Son & Co's drug store. I had suffered with backache for some time but a short use of this remedy proved very satisfactory in relieving the trouble. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills very highly to those afflicted in this way."

MORALE OF UNIFORM.

Capt. A. T. Mahan, the country's greatest naval expert, writing in the August Harper's, discusses the relation of smartness on the part of naval men to discipline. He says:

I once heard an excellent first lieutenant—Farragut's own through the principal actions of the war of secession—say that where there was obvious inattention to uniform there would always be found slackness in discipline. It may be, therefore, that our habits as to uniform were symptomatic of the same easy tolerance which bore with such extravagances as I have mentioned; the like of which in overt act was not known to me in my later association with the academy as an officer. We had a prescribed uniform, certainly; but regulations, like legislative acts, admit of much variety of interpretation and latitude in practice, unless there is behind them a strong public sentiment. In my earlier days there was no public sentiment of the somewhat martinet kind; such as would compel all alike to wear an overcoat because the captain felt cold. In practice there was great laxity in details. I remember in later days and later manners, when we were all compelled to be well buttoned up to the throat, a young officer remarked to me disparagingly of another, "He's the sort of a man, you know, who would wear a frock coat unbuttoned." There's nothing like classification. My friend had achieved a feat in natural history; in 10 words he had defined a species.

Another circumstance that may have contributed to indifference to details of dress, was the exactness with which the older sea officers had constantly to look after the set and trim of the canvas. Every variation of the wind, every change of course, every considerable maneuver, involved corresponding changes in the disposition of the sails, which must be effected not only correctly, but with a minute exactness extending to half a hundred seemingly trivial details, upon precision in which depended—and justly—an officer's general reputation for officerlike character.

Not only so, but the mere weight of rigging and sails, and the stretching resultant on such strain, caused derangement; which, permitted, became slovenliness. Yards accurately braced, sheets home alike, weather-reeches and braces taut, with all the other and sundry indications which a well-trained eye instinctively sought and noted, were less the dandyism than the self-respecting neatness of a well-dressed ship, and were no bad substitute, as tests, for buttoned frock coats.

Wise Counsel From the South.

"I want to give some valuable advice to those who suffer with lame back and kidney trouble," says J. R. Blankenship, of Beck, Tenn. "I have proved to an absolute certainty that Electric Bitters will positively cure that distressing condition. The first bottle gave me great relief and after taking a few more bottles, I was completely cured; so completely that it becomes a pleasure to recommend this great remedy." Sold under guarantee at all druggists. Price 50c.

AT 107 AN ILLINOIS WOMAN DIES IN POOR HOUSE.

Canton, Ill., July 31.—Elsie Jane Nickerson, one of the oldest women in America, has died at the county farm here. Granny Nickerson was 97 years of age June 4, and is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Noah Hill, and two sons, Joshua and David Nickerson.

Mrs. Hill was separated from her husband and is working at odd jobs wherever she can find employment around the county. One son, David, has been lost to the family knowledge for many years, while Joshua is farming in Stone county, Missouri.

Mrs. Nickerson was among the early settlers in Illinois and one of the pioneers of Fulton county, she having settled just outside of the city.

MODERN WOODMEN PLAN GREAT DAY

Local Commercial Organizations Join Hands.

Big Speakers, Parade and Drills to Be Features of the Occasion September 12.

WHAT MR. POLLOCK HAS DONE.

At last night's meeting of the Modern Woodmen of America it was decided that the committee in charge shall continue all the preparations, and the appointment of all minor committees was left to Mr. Jacob Pollock, chairman of the committee, and all temporary officers will be appointed by him.

The Commercial club has taken hold of the project and will lend assistance to make its success possible. The Retail Merchants' association will take the interstate meeting up, and probably favorable action will be taken. If present plans go through all of the large business houses will be decorated for the day. Mr. Jacob Pollock will call on the business men this week and as Paducah has had nothing of this kind this year, he is confident of success.

A big parade for the night has been planned, and floats of all descriptions will be in line. Prizes probably will be offered to stimulate the interest. Correspondence is on for evening attractions. Wallace park has been secured for the afternoon. In the morning the Foresters will give an exhibition drill under Mr. Auburn Milburn, of the local camp, and handsome prizes will be offered to the best drilled camp. Competition will be especially keen in these drills, judging from the answers to letters sent.

Plenty of decoration will be used in the lodge's colors, red, white, blue and green. In a letter received this morning by Mr. Pollock the lodge will try and send two more prominent speakers from Missouri. Henderson wrote for a complete program today, and it will be placed before the members at the next meeting. Mr. H. W. Dwyer, state deputy head council, Danville, Ill., replied this morning and accepted the invitation, and will be on the program for an address.

Oatmeal and Rats.

Dr. Watson suggests that a large measure of the food value of oatmeal is due to its capacity to stimulate the activity of the thyroid gland. After feeding a number of young rats for four to eight weeks on a diet of uncooked oatmeal and water an autopsy revealed in each instance considerable enlargement of the thyroid, together with evidence of increased glandular activity.

He approves of its use at breakfast in the form of porridge and milk, and advises that the meal shall be completed by a glass of milk and some bread and butter and shall not include bacon or any other form of meat. Rats, equally with children, it seems, display this same dietetic perversity—they will not eat oatmeal or bread when meat is available.—From the London Hospital.

Do You Open Your Mouth

Like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you? Or, do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes they have a perfect right to insist upon such knowledge. So he publishes, broadcast and on each bottle of his medicines, what his medicines are made of and verifies it under each. This he feels he can well afford to do because the more the ingredients of which his medicines are made are studied and understood the more will their superior curative virtues be appreciated.

For the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and derangements, giving rise to frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down pain or distress in lower abdominal or pelvic region, accompanied, oftentimes, with a debilitating, pelvic, catarrhal drain and kindred symptoms of weakness, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy. It is equally effective in curing painful periods, in giving strength to nursing mothers and in preparing the system for the expectant mother for baby's coming, thus rendering childbirth safe and comparatively painless. The "Favorite Prescription" is a most potent, strengthening tonic to the general system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. It is also a soothing and invigorating nerve and curative nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the distinctly feminine organs.

A host of medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, recommend each of the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is made for the cure of the diseases for which it is claimed to be a cure. You may read what they say for yourself by sending a postal card request for a free booklet of extracts from the leading authorities, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post.

New Way to Get Money.

A well-dressed man called on Louis Horwath, of 617 Sixth street, about three weeks ago and showing a badge said that he was from police headquarters and that he had heard that Horwath was not married to Elizabeth Achbarath, who was living with him. He offered to let the matter drop for $10, which Horwath paid. A few days later the same man called again and said that something must be done. He offered to marry the couple, which offer was accepted, and he collected $11 for performing the "marriage."

His next visit came a week ago. He told Horwath that the marriage which had been performed was not legal and demanded $40. He got it. Horwath for the first time became suspicious and told his friends, who advised notifying the police. Night before last Detectives Enright, Gilbert and Callahan, of the Union Market station, arrested a man who said he was Emil Markowitz, of 265 East Seventy-second street. He had a badge bearing the words "Special Deputy Sheriff, N. Y. County, 343."

Magistrate Crane, in the Essex Market police court, yesterday morning held Markowitz in $1,000 bail for examination. —New York Sun.

THE LION AND THE MOUSE.

By CHARLES KLEIN.

A Story of American Life Novelized From the Play by ARTHUR HORNBLow.

COPYRIGHT, 1906, BY G. W. DILLINGHAM COMPANY.

But the judge was sincerely grateful for Ryder's apparently disinterested advice and wrote two letters to him, one in which he thanked him for the trouble he had taken and another in which he asked him if he was sure the company was financially sound, as the investment he contemplated making represented all his savings. He added in the second letter that he had received stock for double the amount of his investment and that, being a perfect child in business transactions, he had been unable to account for the extra $50,000 worth until the secretary of the company had written him assuring him that everything was in order. These letters Ryder kept.

From that time on the Alaskan Mining company underwent mysterious changes. New capitalists gained control and the name was altered to the Great Northwestern Mining company. Then it became involved in litigation, and one suit, the outcome of which meant millions to the company, was carried to the supreme court, where Judge Rossmore was sitting. The judge had by this time forgotten all about the company in which he owned stock. He did not even recall its name. He only knew vaguely that it was a mine and that it was situated in Alaska. Could he dream that the Great Northwestern Mining company and the company to which he had entrusted his few thousands were one and the same? In deciding on the merits of the case presented to him right seemed to him to be plainly with the Northwestern, and he rendered a decision to that effect. It was an important decision, involving a large sum, and for a day or two it was talked about. But as it was the opinion of the most learned and honest judge on the bench no one dreamed of questioning it.

But very soon ugly paragraphs began to appear in the newspapers. One paper asked if it were true that Judge Rossmore owned stock in the Great Northwestern Mining company which had recently benefited so signally by his decision. Interviewed by a reporter, Judge Rossmore indignantly denied being interested in any way in the company. Thereupon the same paper returned to the attack, stating that the judge must surely be mistaken, as the records showed a sale of stock to him at the time the company was known as the Alaskan Mining company. When he read this the judge was overwhelmed. It was true! They had not shandered him. It was he who had lied, but how innocently—how innocently!

His daughter Shirley, who was his greatest friend and comfort, was then in Europe. She had gone to the continent to rest after working for months on a novel which she had just published. His wife, entirely without experience in business matters and somewhat of an invalid, was helpless to advise him. But to his old and tried friend, ex-judge Stott, Judge Rossmore explained the facts as they were. Stott shook his head. "It's a conspiracy," he cried. "And John B. Ryder is behind it." Rossmore refused to believe that any man could so deliberately try to encompass another's destruction, but when more newspaper stories came out he began to realize that Stott was right and that his enemies had indeed dealt him a deadly blow. One newspaper boldly stated that Judge Rossmore was down on the mining company's books for $50,000 more stock than he had paid for, and it went on to ask if this was payment for the favorable decision just rendered. Rossmore, helpless, childlike as he was in business matters, now fully realized the seriousness of his position. "My God! My God!" he cried as he bowed his head down on his desk. And for a whole day he remained closeted in his library, no one venturing near him.

As John Ryder sat there splunklike at the head of the directors' table he reviewed all this in his mind. His own part in the work was now done, and well done, and he had come to this meeting today to tell them of his triumph. Cries of "The chair! The chair!" arose on every side. Senator Roberts leaned over to Ryder and whispered something in his ear. With an acquiescent gesture John Ryder tapped the table with his gavel and rose to address his fellow directors. Instantly the room was silent again as the tomb. One might have heard a pin drop, so intense was the attention. All eyes were fixed on the chairman. The air itself seemed charged with electricity that needed but a spark to set it ablaze.

Speaking deliberately and dispassionately, the master dissemler began.

They had all listened carefully, he said, to what had been stated by previous speakers. The situation no doubt was very critical, but they had weathered worse storms, and he had every reason to hope they would outlive this storm. It was true that public opinion was greatly incensed against the railroads and, indeed, against all organized capital and was seeking to injure them through the courts. For a time this agitation would hurt business and lessen the dividends, for it meant not only smaller annual earnings, but that a lot of money must be spent in Washington.

The eyes of the listeners, who were hanging on every word, involuntarily turned in the direction of Senator Roberts, but the latter, at that moment busily engaged in rummaging among a lot of papers, seemed to have missed this significant allusion to the road's expenses in the District of Columbia. Ryder continued:

In his experience such waves of reform were periodical and soon wear themselves out, when things go on just as they did before. Much of the agitation doubtless was a strike for graft. They would have to go down in their pockets, he supposed, and then these yellow newspapers and these yellow magazines that were barking at their heels would let them go. But in regard to the particular case now at issue—this Abundant decision—there had been no use of preventing it. Influence had been used, but to no effect. The thing to do now was to prevent any such disasters in future by removing the author of them.

The directors bent eagerly forward. Had Ryder really got some plan up his sleeve, after all? The faces around the table looked brighter, and the directors cleared their throats and settled themselves down in their chairs as audiences do in the theater when the drama is reaching its climax.

The board continued Ryder with icy calmness, had perhaps heard and also seen in the newspapers the stories regarding Judge Rossmore and his alleged connection with the Great Northwestern Mining company. Perhaps they had not believed these stories. It was only natural. He had not believed them himself. But he had taken the trouble to inquire into the matter very carefully, and he regretted to say that the stories were true. In fact, they were no longer denied by Judge Rossmore himself.

The directors looked at each other in amazement. Gaspings of astonishment, incredulity, satisfaction, were heard all over the room. The rumors were true, then? Was it possible? Incredible!

Investigation, Ryder went on, had shown that Judge Rossmore was not only interested in the company in whose favor as judge of the supreme court he had rendered an important decision; but, what was worse, he had accepted from that company a valuable gift—that is, $50,000 worth of stock—for which he had given absolutely nothing in return unless, as some claimed, the weight of his influence on the bench. These facts were very ugly, and so unanswerable that Judge Rossmore did not attempt to answer them, and the important news which he, the chairman, had to announce to his fellow directors that afternoon was that Judge Rossmore's conduct would be made the subject of an inquiry by congress.

Ryder sat down, and pandemonium broke loose, the delighted directors tumbling over each other in their eagerness to shake hands with the man who had saved them. Ryder had given no hint that he had been a factor in the working up of this case against their common enemy, but the directors knew well that he and he alone had been the master mind which had brought about the happy result.

McPHERSON'S Drug Store.

SO ABSENT-MINDED HE FORGOT LICENSE.

Worcester, Mass., July 31.—Walter N. Stevens, of North Dana, is a lumberman, and this is his busy season. So when he and Ellis L. Graves, of Royalston, decided to wed, the young woman agreed to set the wedding hour at whatever time Walter could finish work and drive the 17 miles between North Dana and Royalston. A minister four miles beyond Royalston agreed to be ready when they appeared.

The night agreed on came, and Walter hustled home from work with a gladness which would not down in spite of the feeling he had forgotten something. This feeling wore off before he reached Miss Graves' house, but it came back with a rush when his bride-to-be inquired: "Did you get the license?"

"I'll go right back after it," said Walter, and his horse traveled faster than it had ever done before. There Walter averted the town clerk and not the license and started back for the third time to cover the 17-mile trip. It was 12:30 a. m., when he reached the Graves home again. His bride greeted him as cheerfully as possible under the circumstances and then began to get herself ready. This took two hours more. Then, with the Graves family waving good-by and good luck, they were off for the minister's.

The Rev. Charles Burt Williams is a man of his word, and he was still awake, at 4 o'clock, as the early-rising roosters were crowing and the birds twittering, he joined the hands of Walter and Elsie and made them one.

"I hope, young man, you will be willing to do as much for your wife five years from today," was his parting message to the couple.

Ideas of the Soul.

The old Egyptians thought the soul was a bird with a human face and human hands, which, on the death of him in whom it dwelt on earth, flew to the gods, its kin. Drawings and sculptured figures show this little winged soul, sometimes represented as perched by the sarcophagus, touching the mummy, in a last farewell before it rose in heavenly flight.

Among the Greeks the soul was thought of as a tiny human figure. In Roman days the butterfly was taken as its symbol. In mediaeval pictures and reliefs we see it leaving the mouth of the dead, either as a child or as a tiny naked man, as, for example, is shown in the Campo Santo of Pisa in Oragna's fresco of the "Triumph of Death."

In northern lands we learn from folklore the soul not seldom left the body as a mouse, or a snake. It was on the former superstition that the story of the bishop of Hatto was based and also, as some say, that of the "Pied Piper of Hamelin."

An Impediment to Plain Speaking.

"Down in Pike county," said an Arkansas statesman, "we had a trial I attended once where a man named Johnson was on the stand. Johnson was for the defense, and the way he was setting things straight was a caution."

"Here," said the attorney for the prosecution when he took Johnson in hand, "I want you to stop prevaricating. Don't you know you are under oath?"

"Stop what?" asked the witness.

"Stop prevaricating."

"The witness drew himself up with great dignity. 'Well,' he said, 'I'd like to know how a man can help prevaricating' when he's lost two front teeth!'"

WONDERFUL FISHING IN OLD KENTUCKY

A Paducah Sportsman Tells Some Great Stories.

Recalls Two Lakes Formed by 1811 Earthquake, Where Sport Is Always Fine in Season.

"TRUTHFUL JAMES" STORIES.

For some reason Missourians do not take much to Kentucky as a state for shooting and fishing, says the Globe-Democrat. There are very few sportsmen who visit the Blue Grass state during the seasons for rod or gun recreation, and yet there are some wonderful fishing waters and most excellent quail and duck shooting to be found in old "Kentucky." Jim Robertson, once of the Paducah Herald, used to tell some interesting stories of the timber lakes of Kentucky. "What would you think of fishing right down in 100 feet of water among forest trees?" asked Robertson one day of the writer. "That is what we do sometimes over in our state. We have a section of country in the southwestern part of Kentucky like the sunken lands district of Missouri and Arkansas. There are lakes which I have visited in that region, where I could look down in the water and see the forest trees standing just as they did when the earthquake of 1811 dropped them down 150 feet into the bowels of the earth. There are two or three of those glass-bottomed boats on the lakes, and it is an interesting study to watch the fish through the observation lenses down there in the submarine forest. The tops of the trees are only about 10 or 15 feet below the surface, and it is in those trees the crappie hatch their young. They lay their eggs upon the limbs, where they stick until they are hatched out. The old wise black bass hunts for hollow trees to spawn in. They usually select the fallen ones near the shore or those having openings in the tops.

"One day I was fishing at Big Timber lake, and I noticed a monster bass come along and stop at a hollow tree. I could see the opening at the top. The bass poised for a moment and then dove down into the hollow of the tree. I carefully dropped a minnow into the opening, and let it down some 20 feet, when there came a jerk on the line that was something fierce in the extreme. There was a game of see-saw for almost a minute, and then the bass came up on a rush, never stopping until it had leaped clear out of the water. Oh, it was a dandy. I had the slack taken up on my line before the fish hit water again, and I kept the old fighter well in hand until I landed him. It never got an opportunity to hunt its hole again.

"I have watched fish going in and out of holes in the sunken trees like bees, and I have seen the monster gars and catfish sailing around in the timber like birds. The cats would grab at the roots, but his garfish preferred to ramble among the brambles as if in pursuit of feathered food. The festive little sunfish are often seen playing tag among the branches of the trees, and sometimes the old bass come into the game, and when they do they are generally 'it' sure as you are alive.

"We fish for rapple nearer the shore than for bass, but there are thousands of the fish in the sunken timber lakes, and they cannot be seined out. As the lakes gradually slope up in places the trees come above the water. These are great places for ducks in season. Many a one is killed on windy days around the timber lake. If any one wants to see a natural phenomena and get the finest kind of fishing, let him come over to Paducah and hunt up Jim Robertson (that's me), and I will take pleasure in showing them how to fish among the tree tops. Last fall the tops of the trees were showing in many places, owing to the long drought, but the fishing was finer than ever."

After this recital, "Truthful James" lapsed into silence and gazed at the pigeons flying in and out of the custom house dome. "Those old birds remind me of the fish swimming about the hollow trees of Big Timber lake," concluded the Kentucky Journalist, with a sigh.

THE SILENCE

That won't come off appears on baby's face after one bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge, the great worm medicine. Why not keep that smile on baby's face? If you keep this medicine on hand, you will never see anything else but smiles on his face. Mrs. S. Blackwell, Okla., writes: "My baby was peevish and fretful. Would not eat and I feared he would die. I used a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and he has not had a sick day since." Sold by J. H. Oehlschlaeger, Lang Bros. and C. O. Ripley.

Elephant Gets Oil Massage.

Twenty gallons of neatfoot oil were required to give the annual massage to Jewel and Hattie, the two elephants in the Central Park zoo yesterday, and when the work was completed their big bodies glistened like polished ebony. The hides of the elephants had become very rough, discolored and thick with surplus growth of skin.

"In a few days the rough skin will scale off by action of the oil and the skin will become smooth and soft," said William Snyder, head keeper of the zoo.

Hattie, the trick elephant, gave the keepers every assistance in applying the oil by lying down, kneeling and sitting with her fore feet raised above the keepers' heads. She trumpeted with delight when brushes were used to apply the oil. Several hundred spectators watched the work on the grass in the rear of the elephant house.

Jewel was not so docile and the oiling had to be done in her room. When the oil began to sink through the great folds of outer skin, gently stinging and tickling her, the elephant trumpeted loudly, and, putting

RAILROAD NOTES

Mr. Sam Craig, of the Illinois Central car repairing shops, went to St. Charles this morning to repair bad order cars.

Alfred Burnett, 46 years old, a section laborer on the Illinois Central, dropped a frog on his right hand yesterday afternoon in the local south yards and cut his hand.

O. O. Hardison 25 years old, a car repairer, caught his left hand in a spring yesterday afternoon and crushed several fingers.

Mr. L. E. McCabe, formerly trainmaster of the Paducah district of the Illinois Central, but now superintendent of the Nashville division of the road, returned to Nashville this morning after a short visit to the city. He will remove his family to Nashville next week.

Fish Takes No Steps For Control.

New York, July 31.—Proxies for the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Illinois Central, to be held in Chicago on October 16, have been sent to the stockholders running in the names of President J. T. Harghan and Vice President A. G. Hackstaff. Last year, when ex-President Stuyvesant Fish was seeking the support of the stockholders to thwart the plans of E. H. Harriman in reference to the future policy of the Illinois Central, the proxies were drawn in the names of Mr. Fish and the late John C. Wellington, vice-president of the company. In earlier years proxies had been solicited in the names of Mr. Fish and Mr. Harriman. Wall Street is interested in the possibility of ex-President Fish making an effort to control this year's annual meeting, but so far as is known Mr. Fish has not taken any steps to obtain proxies for the meeting.

WHITE MAN HELD IN JAIL FOR MURDER COMMITTED BY NEGRO OF SAME NAME.

Memphis, Tenn., July 31.—There may be nothing in a name, but Lawrence Gibson, who has just been released from jail on a writ of habeas corpus, is certain there is. Gibson was locked up on the serious charge of murder, and what was more there was no one who doubted that Lawrence Gibson was the man who committed the crime. It so happened, however, that the Lawrence Gibson whom the authorities wanted was a negro, while the man whom they had in jail was white. These facts were presented to the court, but they were not sufficient to get the release of Gibson, and he was kept behind the bars until his attorney had applied for a writ of habeas corpus.

Gibson was arrested three weeks ago on charges of larceny and obtaining money under false pretenses. He was dismissed after it was shown that both charges were before another court on a civil suit. As he was leaving the courtroom he was astounded when the sheriff took him by the arm and informed him that he was under arrest on a murder charge. He protested his innocence, but to no avail, and was locked up.

In 1904 Lawrence Gibson was indicted on a charge of murder. The indictment was lost, but an old capias was in the hands of the sheriff. The negro fled the country. Gibson, the white man, also left this section and was gone for several years. When it was learned that Gibson had been arrested, the prosecuting witness went to the jail for the purpose of identifying him. As soon as he saw him, he announced that a mistake had been made, inasmuch as the murderer was a negro.

The sheriff, however, insisted that his capias called for the arrest of Lawrence Gibson, and as the prisoner admitted that that was his name and that his home had formerly been here, he was denied his freedom.

OHIO INDORSES SECRETARY TAFT

State Committee Overwhelmingly for Him.

Opposition of Foraker Insufficient To Prevent Action of Members at Meeting.

DICK SILENT CONCERNING IT.

Columbus, O., July 31.—The candidacy of William H. Taft, secretary of war, for the Republican nomination for president, was endorsed by the Republican state committee today by a vote of 15 to 6. The indorsement carried with it a declaration that the Republicans of Ohio are opposed "to the elimination from public life of Senator Foraker and Dick."

Although beaten by decisive vote the adherents of Foraker in the committee refused to accept the Olive Branch extended by Taft's supporters and there was no effort to make the action of the committee unanimous. The indorsement of Taft was vigorously opposed by Foraker, who, upon the eve of the meeting openly voiced his dissent to the proposition. The senior senator controlled seven of the 21 members of the committee on all votes except upon resolution. A. W. McDonald, of the Sixteenth district, broke from the Foraker forces on the final ballot. When the amendment opposing the "elimination" of Foraker and Dick was put to a vote, it was adopted by 11 to 10, all Foraker members, three radicals, Taft supporters, voting against it.

A. I. Vorys, manager of Taft's campaign, declared today that the action of the committee was important in that it gave assurance to other states that Taft had the support of his party in Ohio and would be backed by the delegation from this state in the national Republican convention.

Foraker Protests.
Cincinnati, July 31.—When Foraker learned of the action of the Republican state committee this afternoon, he gave out this statement: "The committee has no more right to speak on that subject for the Republicans of Ohio than any other 21 Republicans might have had. The action of the committee will not affect my course. The next state convention will have authority to speak and by its action it will be the duty of every good Republican to abide."

Dick Won't Talk.
Akron, O., July 31.—Senator Dick refused to discuss this action of the Republican state committee on Taft. Also refused to comment on Foraker's letter to the committee.

Flies Don't Like Oil of Lavender.
"I called at the office of a friend in my line of business the other day," said an Olive street insurance man, "and noticed him take a little, round phial a couple of inches long and as thick as a lead pencil from his desk and pour a drop of the liquid it contained into his hand, rub his palms together, then the backs of his hands and finally his face and ears, while a very agreeable perfume filled the room."

"Getting ready for company, eh?" I ventured, as a polite preliminary to finding out what he was doing and why he was doing it.

"Yes," he answered, "getting ready for flies."

"What's that perfume got to do with flies?" I asked.
"That's lavender oil, and as long as you keep it about you'll never be pestered with flies. They come near enough to get a sniff, and away they go. It's altogether too much for their noses, if flies have any, or for their breathing apparatus if they haven't. You know, in such weather as we have been enduring, flies are particularly troublesome, and a half-grown fly is a perfect personification of impertinence. It will come back to the same place on your ear twenty times in three minutes, and, after risking its life every time it returns, here it is again the twenty-first time, just as impudent as ever. Lavender oil is very agreeable to most people, but the flies have no more use for it than a mosquito has for a dose of pennyroyal. Even the office is almost clear of flies, as you see."

"I looked around, and he was right, for there was hardly a fly to be seen. I bought a bottle of the oil, not so much for office use, as to help out my Sunday afternoon nap; for, no matter how you darken the room there is generally a fly who finds his way inside, and, by repeated attacks keeps you awake and in a bad humor. I have slept in peace ever since, for the flies have more respect for the lavender perfume than for screens and fly paper combined."

Laymen and Missions.

If the professional and business men in the civilized lands of the west will devote to the study of missions the same enterprise, energy and enthusiasm that they have brought into requisition in their secular occupations, the cause will receive such an impulse forward as will come little short of revolutionizing the work from every point of view.—North China Herald

NEW SPECIES OF TURTLES HAVE HUMPS ON BACK.

Findlay, O., July 31.—Emery Stam baugh, a veteran hunter and trapper, has discovered a new species of turtle. The tortoise has a curious hump on its back about the size of a large orange. The shell, which is about eight inches in diameter, extends about two inches on each side of the hump, and is fairly regular in shape, having a general appearance of a narrow-rimmed, high-crowned Mexican hat. The spinal column curves along the center of the hump. The under shell of the turtle is of normal shape, but is milk white in color, without markings, as is usual in river turtles. Stambaugh says he has eaten one of them and the hump is of unusual sweetness and delicacy. The humps, he says, are very symmetrical and show no signs of distortion, giving evidence that it is a distinct race of turtle. A live one will be sent to the state university for examination.

QUINQUENNALLY

BRITISH WOULD HAVE MEETINGS OF HAGUE CONFERENCE.

Beat American Delegates With Their Proposals, as Latter Were Talking About It.

The Hague, July 31.—The British delegation is working on a proposition which may cause surprise. As already cabled the United States is privately discussing with leading delegates the advisability of the United States presenting a proposition for a periodical sitting of the conference, suggesting that it should meet quinquennially June 2, beginning in 1912.

The British delegation went ahead of the Americans, having already communicated to a few delegates a proposition establishing that the conference should sit septennially, but that two years before the meeting, representatives of Great Britain, France, Germany, the United States, Russia, Italy, Austria and Japan should meet to prepare a program. Thus the conference will not longer depend upon the will of the Russian emperor.

Queered Himself.

"See here, kid, you've needn't be comin' round here no more tellin' me yer loves me! Don't yer suppose I know dat you've been lettin' that clancy kid chew your poppin' gum the whole week?"—New York World.

Which—Brachycephalic or Dolichocephalic?

The cabled news from London that the average hat of an Englishman is smaller than it used to be need surprise no one. In part it is the result of the leveling processes of democracy. Many people habitually wear "store" hats whose ill-fitted ancestors used them only on great occasions, if at all. The average stature of the English people too has probably declined since the introduction of the factory system, though in most other countries stature tends to increase. In part the change is due to the mixture of races. Within his long lifetime Gladstone was able to see a striking increase in the percentage of dark-haired people in England. The dark races are generally brachycephalic, or round-headed, where the Saxons were dolichocephalic, or long headed. Round heads are supposed to be artistic and executive, long heads reflective and philosophical.—New York World.

Salvation Army Fund.

The Salvation Army and relief fund is going to provide sunshine and happiness for the poor. One dollar will give two poor children or mothers a day of pleasure. A picnic with lunches, games, lemonade (oceans of it) and a musical trolley ride is a dream that will become a reality in two weeks' time. Every dollar means two souls made glad. Then the rest of the fund will be used for the fresh milk and ice department of the army relief work. Can you help? Do it now. Captain Meaker acknowledges:

BETTER BRIDGES AND FEWER ROADS

Recommendation of Commission of Fiscal Court.

Expense of Repairs Is Great Drain on County's Annual Resources, Say Magistrates.

MCCRACKEN COUNTY'S FARMS.

Having completed inspection of the 300 miles of public highways in McCracken county, the commission appointed by the fiscal court, will submit a written, detailed report to the court at its session next Monday. This report will contain numerous recommendations, probably among which will be more attention to new steel or concrete bridges and less to the making of new roads.

The commission will also report that County Road Supervisor Bert Johnson has expended the funds to the best advantage, and while the Fifth district and some others have more miles of gravel roads than the Eighth district, the residents of the latter have not co-operated so well. In other districts farmers have dedicated land for widening roads and contributed labor to their improvement, while Eighth district farmers have hampered the road supervisor by charging full price for their land, and declining to contribute to the work.

The commission also found that much money has been wasted in opening and improving new roads, which are of little use. This is not the fault of the supervisor, but of those who viewed the prospective highways and recommended them. Hereafter, if the court follows the advice of the commission, it will be wary of spending money in this way.

There are about 100 bridges in the county. It costs a large amount each year for repairs to the wooden structures. Lumber is continually increasing in price, and the cost of hauling the material is large, some of it being hauled 15 miles by wagon. Iron, steel or concrete structures would go away with this constant repair account.

Roads Are in Good Shape.

"McCracken county's roads are in excellent condition," said Magistrate Bleich, of the commission. "To my motion Superintendent Johnson has been careful in the expenditure of the funds, and our roads are the best in the state."

"We have ridden over 300 miles of roads, and it has been a revelation to us in many ways. One of the things that struck me forcibly was the quality of farms we saw. It is wrong to say that all McCracken county land is poor. There are any number of fine farms in this county, and the farmers all appear prosperous. Their prosperous condition is noticeable, and a ride over the county makes one proud of the fact that he lives here."

To Produce a Sweat.

It was during an oral examination at a medical college. As the examination proceeded the student who was being questioned got warmer and warmer, and the sweat broke out over his forehead.

"What would you do to throw a patient into a profuse perspiration?" at length asked the examiner, "if you had tried the ordinary drugs without effect?"

"Send him here to be examined," replied the student without a moment's hesitation. "If that don't do it there's nothing that would."

Appropriate.

A certain officer who had by no means distinguished himself in the South African war, retired from the service and built himself a villa. He was showing it to a friend one day, and remarked:

"The only difficulty I have is about a name for the house. I should like to hit upon something suitable, something appropriate to my military career, you know."

"I see," replied his friend. "Then why not call it 'The Retreat?'"—Tit-Bits.

NATIONALISTS

CARRY FIFTY OUT OF EIGHTY PHILIPPINE DISTRICTS.

Win By Large Majority in Manila—Complete Returns Will Be Delayed.

Manila, July 31.—The Independence factions who united in the campaign as "Nationalists," appear to have won the general election held throughout the islands yesterday. The returns from fifty out of the eighty districts show 31 "Nationalists" elected, ten Progressives, eight Independents and one Catholic. In Manila the "Nationalists" won by a large majority in both districts. Dominador Gomez claims the election in the First district. Justo Lakban contests election of both of the Independence candidates.

It will probably be ten days before complete returns are received.

MILLIONS ARE SPENT FOR CIGAR BOXES.

There is probably not a cigar smoker in the land who has not wondered, at one time or another, how much of what he pays for his smoke goes into the box and the lithographed labels and the gilt bands and the like. The cost of these boxes used in the United States alone foots up to $6,000,000 every year. Some of them go to Havana, but they come back with cigars in them.

Perhaps the most interesting and least-known fact about this industry is that, while some cigar boxes are made of cedar, a great number are made of poplar, veneered on one side with cedar, while still others are made of poplar without any veneer. In the latter case the wood is printed in imitation of cedar by the use of ink of the proper color and a machine which carries a printing roller, on which are lines to resemble the grain of cedar wood. The bottom and top of a cigar box of standard kind are 5-32 inch in thickness, while the ends are 7-32 inch. Despite the very small amount of wood needed, it is cheaper, however, to use the veneered poplar than the cedar, and still cheaper to print the poplar.

Low prices are only made possible by the use of intricate machinery and subdivision of labor; and it is also important to waste as little of the material as possible. To this end the wood of the proper thickness is not sawed from the log, but sliced or split by a special machine. The immense pressure used in veneering wood for the manufacture of furniture is not used, and the veneered slabs, which are pretty well warped and twisted at first, are straightened out and dried simply by passing through rollers.

Then the slabs are taken to the sawing table, where they are ripped and cross-sawed—from five to ten in one cut—into pieces of proper dimensions for the single boxes are being made. Thence the pieces are sent to the inspector, who, besides examining each and sorting out those which are imperfect, making separate piles containing the same number in each of ends, sides, bottoms and tops.

The ends and sides are nailed together into frame by one machine, and the bottoms and tops are nailed on by another. These machines are fed with nails by an automatic arrangement, which presents the required number of them at each stroke. One stroke does the business of nailing at each corner, and one stroke also suffices for the bottoms and tops, the nails being pushed in rather than driven. One of these machines will frame 5000 boxes a day, and two machines, working together, will turn out 10,000 boxes, except for the labels.

The lid of the cigar box is held in place by nailing only along the front edge, and generally by one nail. The hinge at the back is made by one strip of cheesecloth glued upon the outside and subsequently covered by the labels and paper trimmings. When the hinge is dry the pasting of the labels is begun. Tiny metal hinges are sometimes put upon cigar boxes, but these are comparatively rare. So are dovetailed boxes, which can, however, be had on order.

Generally speaking, the entire interior surface of the box is lined with paper.

Church and Clergy.

According to the most reliable reports there are 262,000 Sunday schools in the world, with a total enrollment of 26,999,000 pupils.

The International Council of Religious Liberals in Boston September is expected to call together a great gathering of Universalists.

The Rev. Meldola De Sola has just completed twenty-five years of service as minister of the Spanish and Portuguese synagogue of Montreal.

The St. Louis Franciscan province is sending two of its young priests to aid the Franciscans who are working for the conversion of China, under the Rt. Rev. Bishop Goette, O. F. M.

An encouraging sign of the times in England is a movement for a stricter Sabbath, which has the support of the archbishop of Westminster, and the Rev. John S. Lidgett, representing the nonconformist churches.

In response to a request from Bishop John E. Robinson, the board of foreign missions has made provision for the outgoing of three practical printers as missionaries, one for each of the Methodist publishing houses in Bombay, Calcutta and Madras.

The corner stone of the new cathedral at Omaha, Neb., will be laid the first Sunday in October. It is expected a number of church dignitaries will attend. Plans are being formulated to make it one of the greatest religious demonstrations ever witnessed in the west.

As an instance of the tragedy of foreign missions, Dr. Hoskins, of Beirut, Syria, referred to the fact that four of the members of that mission gave four years of devoted work to preparing an Arabic translation of the bible, and then found all their labor lost because the American Bible society could not provide the necessary $10,000 for the publication.
